

Race is a captivating biopic, released in 2016 and expertly directed by Stephen Hopkins. It tells the true story of the young gifted Jesse Owens. The plot takes place in a 1930's ambiance with the rise of Nazism in the background. Despite his talent for track and field, the young Jesse Owens has to face up to racism and its prejudices. The apogee of the film appears through the scenes taking place during the 1936 Berlin Olympic Games organized by Hitler to showcase Germany's greatness.

The lead actors are Stephen James in the role of Jesse Owens. Then, Eli Goree plays Dave Albritton (Jesse's best friend). As for Jason Sudeikis, he plays the role of Lary Snyder (Owen's coach). Finally, Shanice Banton plays Ruth Salomon (Jesse's fiancé)

"A breathtaking film"

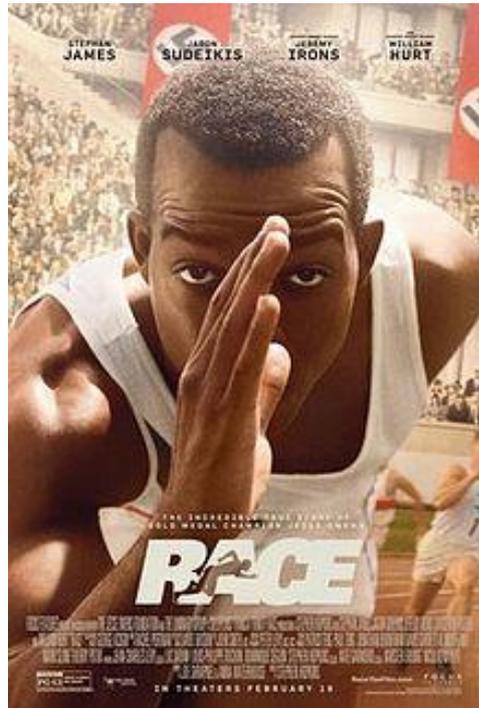

"A beautiful life lesson"

"It instils hope"

"A film full of emotions and truth"

« It shows that whatever the color of our skin we must all have the same rights »

"Race is a film about courage, determination, tolerance, friendship. An inspiring story about a man's fight to become an Olympic legend. "

"A powerful biopic against racism"

"A spectacular film"

"An inspired and inspiring movie"

"Your perception of the world will be changed"

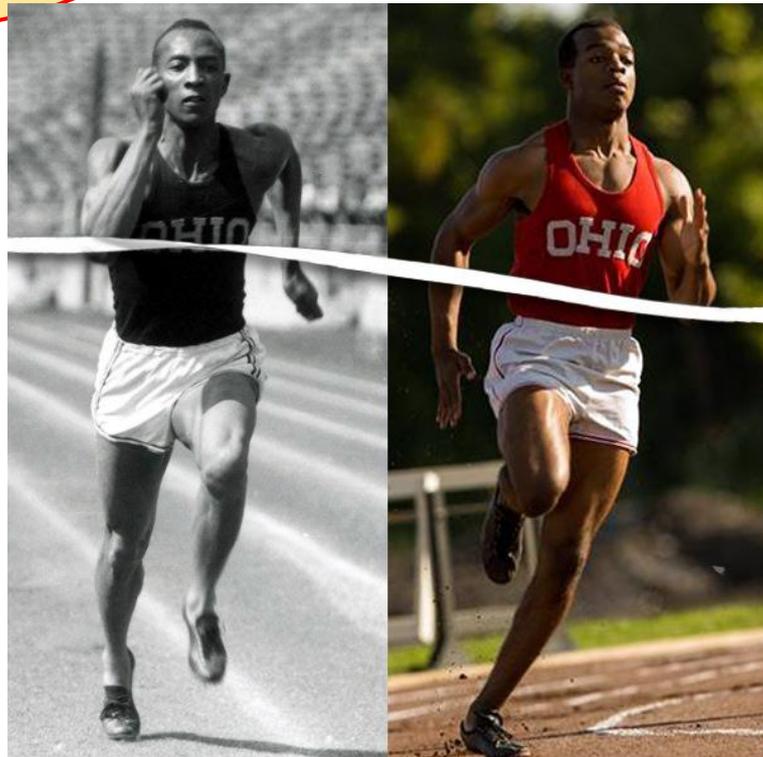

"It will take you to another dimension that you have not experimented yet"

“Discover the dark side of high-level competition”

“The most impacting film of the year”

“A fabulous movie ! It sent shivers down my spine”

« Memorable scenes »

“Without showing the atrocities of the war, this film makes us feel a kind of tension and fear that reminds us of this dark period of history.”

“It shows that determination and perseverance outweighs everything else”

“A universal and engaged film, which will deeply affect you thanks to its originality and its audacity.”